The Benefits are Clear

- First, it establishes uniformity and ensures that each inmate consistently receives the same set of rules without error.
- Second, it reinforces your mission and sets the tone for how you would like new inmates to perceive your staff and facility.
- Third, it provides the administrator with a unique opportunity to address each inmate.
- Fourth, it saves you time and money by eliminating an officer who individually reviews the rules with each entering inmate.
- Fifth, it ensures that illiterate or foreign speaking inmates have a clear understanding of the rules in accordance with national accreditation requirements.
- Finally, it limits the facility's potential liability and decreases the occurrence of future disputes between officers and inmates by requiring inmates to sign a consent form after watching the orientation video.
